

DEMOCRATIC MINORITY DELAYS SOCIALIST VOTE BY FILIBUSTER

Minority Tactics Were Designed to Save Governor from Calling or Refusing to Call Elections to Fill Vacancies of the Ousted Assemblymen

DEBATE CAUSES GENERAL UPROAR

Outbursts of Applause Excelling Any in Memory of Legislators, Follows the Speech of Assemblyman McCue Advocating Expulsion of Socialists

Albany, March 31. — Debate on the question of expelling from the New York state assembly the five socialist members suspended on alleged disloyalty developed late today into a determined filibuster on the part of the Democratic minority to prevent vote being reached until after midnight. At the insistence of Minority Leader Charles D. Donohue, who declared Speaker Sweet had assured him unlimited opportunity for debate would be permitted, a cloture restricting individual speeches to 15 minutes each was lifted. Assemblyman William S. Evans, Democrat of the Bronx, the first of the minority members to speak in opposition to the recommendation of the majority of the judiciary committee that the seats of the socialists be declared vacant, talked for nearly three hours and it was understood that other minority members were prepared to follow his example.

Suspend Debate to Pass Housing Bills.

It was also planned to suspend the rules during the evening to permit the passage by the assembly of the bill designed to relieve the housing situation in New York city. These measures were passed in the senate during the day, and in order to become effective, they must be passed by the assembly and approved by Governor Smith before midnight. This condition was accepted by the Democrats with the understanding that they would not be allowed to filibuster.

The purpose of the dilatory tactics was to save Governor Smith from the embarrassment of calling or refusing to call special elections to fill the vacancies in the assembly resulting from the unseating of the five socialists—a proceeding which everybody admitted was inevitable. Under the provision of the election law, a vacancy in the assembly occurring after March 31, cannot be filled by a special election unless an extraordinary session of the legislature is to be called. It was said by Democratic leaders that procedure, both for and against special elections, would be brought to bear upon the governor in the event the socialists were unseated before tomorrow, April 1, and that it was unfair to the executive to make him suffer from a situation for which he was not in any way responsible.

Assembly Often in Uproar.

Before the debate began, with the majority members instructed to talk as long as they could, every technicality of parliamentary law was invoked in an effort to postpone consideration of the socialists' case until tomorrow. During the course of the preliminary legislative sparring, the assembly was frequently in an uproar, personalities were exchanged in unparliamentary style. The members were admonished by Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet to perform their dignified duties in a dignified manner and not to indulge in the methods which had, he charged, characterized several recent hearings in the chamber.

Several attempts were made to appeal from the decision of the chair on points of order, but in every case the speaker was sustained by the almost united Republican majority, assisted by Assemblyman Louis A. Cuvillier, a New York city Democrat, who has appeared as one of the leading opponents of the Socialist delegation.

Finally, after order had been restored and the procedure had been determined upon, Chairman Louis M. Martin of the Judiciary committee opened the debate with an extended discussion of the majority report of the committee, and ended with the statement: "Our duty is concluded; the responsibility now rests with the assembly."

The general debate began at the conclusion of Chairman Martin's speech. Applauding Martin's Remarks.

Great applause greeted the closing remarks of Louis M. Martin, Republican of Oneida, chairman of the Judiciary committee, who was the first to debate the committee's majority report recommending the ousting of the five socialist assemblymen.

"The body which makes laws, in order to perpetuate our institutions, must be in hearty accord with the government," he declared. "If these men are not in accord with the government, there is but one thing for us to do. If they are, then welcome them back into this chamber."

Mr. Martin contended that it has been proved that "these five men are disloyal," adding that "you don't have to find them disloyal because we do. Apply your own rule of hearty accord to these men and see if they will stand the test."

Referring to the resignation of Albin Benson from the socialist party, Mr. Martin said the five socialist assemblymen could have followed Benson's example, and he "would have welcomed them here."

Mr. Martin discussed the essential points in the majority report at great length. He spoke for nearly two hours.

Points to Berger Action.

Assemblyman Louis A. Cuvillier, Democrat of New York, a signer of the majority report, urged the assembly to follow the lead of Congress which unseated Berger, by unseating these five men. He referred to Louis Waldman, one of the socialist assemblymen, as the "little Trotsky."

He declared that the socialist party case, Mr. Evans declared that there was no legal warrant for expulsion, although the assembly has the power to expel and its action could not be reviewed by any court.

"In this case," said he, "we have all the power of the United States supreme court. Although the supreme court is the highest legal tribunal in the land, it would not be justified in doing an illegal act."

"I don't care how disloyal they (the socialists) are; I don't care what their conspiracy is; I am not going to violate the law and the constitution because I don't like them."

"I have not heard a word of law or reason in the majority report, nothing but conclusions. You are asking me to throw the law aside just because we have the physical power to do so and the courts cannot review our action."

Mr. Evans talked for nearly three hours as part of the minority plan to postpone a vote until after midnight. In the course of his speech he said:

"I believe that Assemblyman Martin and other members of the judiciary committee were disloyal under the constitution when they signed that majority report."

Declares Evidence Is Lacking.

Sol Ullman, Republican of New York, followed Mr. Evans. He talked for only a few minutes, long enough to say that the "expulsion of the five socialist assemblymen would be a crime against our democratic institutions."

William C. Ames, another New York Republican member, declared that "no evidence has been brought out to convict these men of overt crimes of any kind and their constitutional right to sit as members has not been successfully questioned."

"These men," he said, "are not compelled to construe the oath of office as I construe it nor as Speaker Sweet or anyone else construes it. It is given to every man to place his own construction upon the oath that he takes."

"I hold no brief for the socialists. I stand upon the impregnable rock of true Americanism, believing in our representative form of government and the flag of our country as a symbol of ideals toward which our people may struggle and strive to reach through that God given instrumentality, the American ballot box."

Assemblyman Harold E. Blodgett, Democrat of Schenectady, a Judiciary committee member who filed a dissenting opinion, declared that the assembly "is mapping a precedent which will be an authority on unborn generations."

Block Questions Legality of Case.

Denouncing the stand the socialist party took in 1917 in adopting its war program, he said that "they had a right to disagree without participation in the war even though they were wrong."

In closing he said: "The state of New York need have no fear of socialism or its theories."

Assemblyman Morris Bloch, Democrat of New York, another member of the Judiciary committee who filed a dissenting opinion, devoted much of his argument to a consideration of the legal aspects of the case. He declared that no test for the assumption of office in the state was necessary other than the constitutional oath and that the legislature had no right to impose any test of loyalty or political principle in addition to the oath.

"To do so," he said, "would be a nullification of democracy and a shameless establishment of dictatorship. An official ballot bearing marks made by duly qualified American electors is a sacred thing. My consent will not be given to the practical destruction of that. Twenty-five thousand four hundred and fourteen persons marked their ballots in support of these men. Their voice is supreme. I shall not subscribe to the doctrine that we as members of the legislature have a constitutional right to throw a ballot box or any number of ballot boxes into the open sea. Our duty is to safeguard them and not to destroy them."

"I am of the opinion that the question of their loyalty will be properly decided by the people of their respective districts if they ever again attempt to seek public office. I have great confidence in the judgment of the American people."

McCue Wildly Applauded.

The wildest outburst of applause, which veteran legislators declared excelled any in their career, occurred at the conclusion of a speech by Assemblyman Martin McCue, Democrat of New York, advocating expulsion. Every member jumped from his seat and cheered the New Yorker for two or three minutes.

"We are not going to permit the traitors to write the laws," he said. Throughout his speech, which was a bitter arraignment of the suspended socialists, Mr. McCue was constantly interrupted by applause.

Referring to Waldman, Mr. McCue reviewed his testimony that he came to America with only a few dollars, took advantage of America's free educational system and in less than eight years became a member of the assembly. "What has Waldman returned to the United States for all the United States had done for him, that wonderful education he has received?" he asked. "While you service him, he heroes, were over there, he was doing his best to destroy our government."

Fears Socialist Menace May Spread.

He referred to the failure of the ten socialists in the assembly in 1918 to vote for a resolution wishing God speed to the member who resigned "so that he could go with his regiment which had been mustered into federal service."

"When, in 1918, traitorous remarks were made by socialists in this house we sat here when we should have taken one or two of them by the throat and tossed them out of the window," continued Mr. McCue. "While our flag was flying over there and the boys over there were dying for them, they over here were doing all they could to prevent us from getting supplies to them."

"If we don't have more T. C. Sweets and Governor Coolidge, the socialist menace will spread from coast to coast."

"I am going to vote to expel these men who came here under false pretenses, who took the oath with no intent to keep it."

Barra Joins Ouster Faction.

Mr. McCue insisted that the "socialist party that is recognized as a political party under the law of the state is not on trial. We are trying these men, who have given away their rights of freedom to the due paying members of the socialist party."

"That is enough to deny them speech in this chamber. The cry that we have taken away representation from thousands of voters in the districts in which these men were elected is not so. We have taken away the representation of the executive committee of the socialist party, nothing more."

The ranks of the ouster faction were swelled by the addition of Caesar Barra, Democrat of New York, who, in a vigorous address, condemned the socialist members, both for their individual activities and for their hearty allegiance.

Minority Leader Donohue and Assemblyman J. Fairfax McLaughlin of the Bronx opposed unseating. Each gave an extended legal argument in support of his position.

Majority Leader Simon L. Calder, introducer of the resolution suspending the five members, said he would vote to expel Waldman, Claessens and Solomon, but would favor the re-seating of DeWitt and Orr. The evidence, he said, showed Waldman, Claessens and Solomon to be of revolutionary type of socialists.

Assemblyman Long Urges Expulsion.

Assemblyman Charles H. Betts of Wayne, and Lincoln R. Long, of Delaware, Republicans, urged expulsion. Long after midnight Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet, who instituted the ouster proceedings, left the rostrum and spoke from the floor, something that he has done only once before during his long service as the assembly's presiding officer. Part of his speech was construed as a reply to Assemblyman Theodore Roosevelt, who had advocated the re-seating of the five suspended members.

"This day while we are making legislative history," said the speaker, "we must surely feel with us the presence of that indomitable country loving statesman, the late Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, who, in these chambers, only a few years ago, laid the foundations of his noble self-sacrificing labor in the interests of the republic he so dearly loved. In these chambers Colonel Roosevelt laid the ground work for his great Americanism. Here he unfolded his plan for better government. He breathed into every document from his pen a spirit, that spoke to all men and women of his eternal, irrevocable pledge to his country and his flag. Almost the last words that Colonel Roosevelt spoke to his people was a message that will ever ring in the heart of every citizen. Among the things he said was this:

Quotes Theodore Roosevelt.

"But this is predated upon the man becoming in very fact an American and nothing but an American. If he tries to keep segregated with men of his own origin and separated from the rest of America then he isn't doing his part as an American. There can be no divided allegiance here. We have room for but one flag, the American flag, and this excludes the red flag which symbolizes all wars against liberty and civilization just as much as it excludes any foreign flag of a nation to which we are hostile."

Many other quotations from the late President Roosevelt were read by the speaker, who concluded with an abstract from an address by Colonel Roosevelt in July, 1915, in which he said:

"We must have loyalty to only one flag, the American flag; and it is disloyalty to the American flag to try to be loyal to any other, whether that other is a foreign flag or the black and red flag, which symbolizes either anarchy or else treacherous hostility to a war for which the nations stand."

Scathingly Arraigns Socialists.

CONGRESS URGED TO CONCLUDE WAR

Peace With Germany Through Adoption of Joint Resolution Is Proposed

EXPECT VERDICT SOON

Leaders Declare Republicans Will Vote Solidly Through Adoption of Proposals

Washington, March 31. — Peace with Germany through adoption of a joint resolution declaring the war at an end was put squarely before congress today by Republicans in control of the house.

Framed by Republican members of the foreign affairs committee and backed by party leaders, the measure was thrown into the hopper with as little ceremony as if it had been a bridge bill, but instantly there developed a demand for speedy action. A move to jam it through the house Friday took shape, the Democrats outspoken in their opposition, finally obtained an agreement to postpone consideration until Monday.

While trying to work out a resolution calculated to suit all factions of their party, Republican committee-men had arranged to call it up Friday, remembering that it was on Good Friday three years ago that war was declared.

Republican members of the foreign affairs committee, to which the resolution was referred without comment, worked in conference for more than five hours before they mapped out a measure designed to overcome all party objections. The committee will meet tomorrow and is expected to report it to the house.

Leaders declared the Republicans would vote solidly for the resolution, which they held should meet the approval of the state department, since it did not declare peace, but simply amended an existing state of war.

Democrats, on the other hand, contended that termination of the war rested solely with the executive branch of the government. The certainty of a Presidential veto was pointed out, but Chairman Porter predicted that in that event there would be no difficulty in obtaining the necessary two-thirds vote to pass it over the veto.

Washington, March 31. — A joint resolution declaring the state of war between the United States and Germany at an end was introduced today in the house immediately after its approval at a conference between Republican leaders and members of the foreign affairs committee.

The measure was referred to the foreign affairs committee. Republican leaders planned to bring it up Friday under a special rule, with the hope of final action before adjournment that day. Attention was called that this would be good Friday and that war was declared on Good Friday three years ago.

The resolution provides for certain reciprocal trading with Germany and for repeal of the President's war powers. It allows Germany 45 days after its adoption in which to agree not to assert any claim against the United States which she could not have asserted under the treaty of Versailles. A penalty of $10,000 is provided in cases of violation of the terms of the resolution as to trading.

APPROVE ANNUAL BUDGET.

Albany, March 31.—The legislature today passed the annual appropriation bill, totaling approximately $75,000,000. The measure was passed by the assembly earlier in the day and by the senate just before adjournment. Aside from criticism of the measure by minority leaders in both houses, the bills met with no opposition.

GRANT PROVISIONAL CREDIT.

Parris, March 31.—The senate this evening adopted a bill granting the provisional credit asked by the government. There were only eight votes against the measure.

from the words of the former President, Speaker Sweet said: "We are building by our action today, a granite bulwark against all traitors within the boundaries of our republic. Our flag of the republic is whipping the breeze in defiance of enemies from without."

The speaker scathingly arraigned the socialist doctrine and activities. "They agree," he said, "not only the five assemblymen, but every member of the dues paying socialist organization, that the time has passed when they hope to attain their aims with the ballot. The torch is ready and their knives are long and keen."

"They are all for one and one for all, socialists, communists, industrial workers of the world, socialists to the core, with but one object, one purpose, the overthrow of the United States government and with the red flag of anarchy floating from every state capitol and from the dome of the capitol in Washington."

The Associated Press informed The Star over the telephone at 3:10 this morning that the assembly debate on the question of ousting the five socialists still was in progress, and a vote probably would not be reached until between 5 and 6 o'clock standard time.

SOCIALISTS SPITEFUL TOWARD LUSK BILLS

Educational Director of the Rand School Appears Before Investigators in a Protest

Albany, March 31. — While the assembly today was debating the question of expelling the five suspended socialist members, a delegation of Socialists, headed by Algon Lee, educational director of the Rand School of Social Science, appeared at a legislative hearing and protested against the passage of the bills recommended by the Lusk committee, which investigated radical activities and propaganda. One of the measures submitted by the Lusk committee is intended to authorize the board of regents to determine whether a school is conducted for the public good and another would empower the attorney general to organize a special bureau to prosecute violation of the state statutes against criminal anarchy.

"The question," said Senator Lusk, chairman of the investigating committee, "is whether a corporation that is a convicted felon, or the board of regents shall determine what is for the public interest." His remarks about a "convicted felon" referred to the American Socialist society, which conducts the Rand school.

Among opponents of the bill, in addition to Mr. Lee, were S. John Block, state chairman of the Socialist party; Louis Friedlander of the International Ladies' Garment Workers; Alfred Bonid, of the Brooklyn Central Federated Labor union; Albert S. Nord, of the Citizens' union, and F. C. Bieden-kapp, representing the Machinists' and Metal Workers' craft.

Mr. Bieden-kapp said he was authorized at a meeting of his organization last night to tell the committee that if the Lusk bills are passed the legislature should enact companion bills to build more prisons.

"We are building two new ones," was the comment of Senator Sage, chairman of the finance committee.

Mr. Lee declared that the Rand school had never taught violence. He asserted that the proposed bills were part of a "general system of suppression."

SECRETARY LANSING PLANS TO PRACTICE INTERNATIONAL LAW

Washington, March 31. — Former Secretary Lansing and Lester H. Woolsey, who surrendered today his post as solicitor of the state department, have formed a partnership for the practice of international law. They were associated in the department from the time Mr. Lansing became consul under Secretary Bryan until his resignation.

Mr. Lansing announced tonight that he had telegraphed the Georgia Democratic committee requesting that his name should not be entered in the presidential primary. Mr. Lansing said he was not a candidate and could see no purpose in the use of his name. While he appreciated the compliment paid him, he said, he thought it best his name should not appear on the ballot.

YARCHAND WINS ARMY TITLE AMONG HEAVY WEIGHT BOXERS

New York, March 31. — Private Frank Yarchand of Fort Eustis, Virginia, whose home is in Indian Harbor, Indiana, won the heavy weight boxing championship of the department of the east, United States navy, in the final of a two-round tournament at the 62nd regiment armory here tonight.

Yarchand, who weighed 180 pounds to his opponent's 205, received the judges' decision over Private Charles Garner of Fort Wright, N. Y., in a six round bout. Garner comes from Sansom, Alabama.

Georges Carpentier, the European heavyweight champion, promised the spectators to referee one of the later bouts.

PASS HOUSING BILLS.

Albany, March 31.—The assembly suspended consideration of the socialists' case long enough tonight to enact into law 11 bills designed to relieve the housing situation in first class cities and Westchester county. The measures were passed under emergency messages from the governor. The bills were passed earlier in the day by the senate. After concurrent action by the assembly, the bills were sent to the governor who signed them immediately.

RESTRAIN STUTZ METEORIC SPURT

Exchange Governors Temporarily Suspend Further Dealings in Motor Shares

MYSTERY VEILS ORDER

Unexplained Ruling Is Without Precedent in History of Stock Exchange

New York, March 31. — Further dealings in Stutz Motor shares, one of the recent meteoric features of the stock exchange, were temporarily suspended by special act by governors of the exchange after the close of today's session.

This applies not only to trading on the floor of the exchange, but also to private transactions between members outside of the exchange and is without precedent in the history of that institution.

Officials of the stock exchange declined to explain or in any way amplify the action of the governing committee, which confined its statement to the bare announcement that further trading would be suspended.

Stutz has been the most conspicuous stock of the last few weeks, rising from 123 1/4, its final price on March 6, to 291 at the close of today's trading. The advance has been steady, at daily gains of 10 to almost 30 points.

Approximately 110,000 shares have changed on the rise, or about 10,000 shares more than the entire issue. This is not unusual in itself, as many active stocks are turned over several times in excess of their total issues during an active period running into several weeks or more.

Stutz is said to be controlled by Alton A. Ryan, head of the banking house of A. A. Ryan and company. Mr. Ryan is president of the company and active in its management. No statement was obtainable from the Ryan interests, other than that they knew nothing of any attempt to corner the stock, which they said had been available for buying or loaning purposes throughout its advance.

Stock exchange gossip has associated the sensational rise of Stutz with reports that a prominent steel man went heavily "short" of the stock some 200 points under today's record quotation, and that he was being "squeezed" by those in control of the market.

There were other rumors that Stutz and several motor specialists dominated by Ryan and his friends were to be taken into a huge consolidation of motor interests in process of organization by one of the leading automobile companies of the country.

Later it was announced that A. A. Ryan and company had caused an advertisement to be inserted in the financial columns of the local newspapers offering to purchase any shares of Stutz Motor that may be offered for sale. This was done, it was said, to protect owners of the stock against the suspension ordered by the New York Stock exchange.

MISSISSIPPI DOWNS SUFFRAGE

House of Representatives By Vote of 94 to 23, Again Fails to Ratify Amendment.

Jackson, Miss., March 31. — The Mississippi house of representatives today again refused to ratify the suffrage amendment by a vote of 94 to 23. The measure passed the senate yesterday.

The action was positive and regarded as final, a motion to disagree with the senate's resolution favoring ratification having been carried. There was an uproar of "noes" on the floor when a demand was made that telegrams from Democratic leaders urging ratification be read. Speakers who sought to support ratification were hooted and jeered.

Governor Russell, who had been expected to deliver a "little talk" to the house urging ratification, did not appear.

RATIFY COAL AWARD.

New York, March 31.—The negotiations for a new agreement for the bituminous coal miners were brought to a close this afternoon when the general scale committee of operators and miners of the Central competitive field ratified a contract embodying the award of President Wilson's coal commission. This new agreement, which involves a wage increase of 27 per cent, becomes effective tomorrow morning and will continue in force for a period of two years.

The Bonniest Bonnet by Dixie Wolcott

There's the bonny Scotsman's bonnet. That he wears with greatest pride. With a jaunty silver tinsel. Fastened gaily at the side. There's the little pink sunbonnet. Which the country lassie wears; And the bonnet's filled creation That "My Lady" dons upstairs.

And stored within our attic. In a rosewood chest of yore. Is the fetching wedding bonnet. That my great-grandmother wore. There's a wreath of pearls on it. And a tiny spray within— And some cherry-colored ribbons That were tied beneath her chin.

But the hat most chic and charming That has ever come my way Is that one the Dorotheas Wore to church on Easter day. I can't tell the shape or color, I could never guess its worth. But beneath it glowed the beauty Of the sweetest face on earth!

Largest Pipe Organ.

What is undoubtedly the largest and probably the greatest pipe organ ever made was that which was played in Festival hall in St. Louis, during the exposition in 1904. It was originally made for Convention hall, in Kansas City, but was never accepted. It remained in storage for years and was then bought by John Wanamaker and installed in his Philadelphia store, where it is played every working day. The organ weighs 375,000 pounds.

STOCK TRADING DULL THOUGH PROFESSIONAL

Stutz Leads List With Gain of 21 Points to a New High Record of 391

New York, March 1. — The session of the stock exchange today was relatively dull and professional, but the trend of prices was unmistakably upward, though easing generally on realizing for profit in the final hour.

There was no visible change in the money situation, demand loans again opening at eight percent and rising to 12 percent toward the close. Time funds were virtually unobtainable, except for renewals into the year's second quarter.

Foreign exchange retained all of its recent uncertain characteristics, the London rate rallying briskly, probably as a result of further gold imports, but French and Italian bills were heavy, the decline to a new discount of 20.75 to the dollar, but advancing slightly at the close.

In its main essentials, the stock market covered the ground made familiar by the more speculative operations of the past few weeks. New maximums were established by several of the prominent motors, steels and equipments.

Stutz led at a gain of 21 points to the new high of 391. Crucible was next, rising 7½ to 259½, but forfeiting all save a fraction at the end, and Vanadium at a net gain of 5½ to 72½, also registered a new high quotation.

Additional features of strength embraced General Motors, International Motors, Baldwin Locomotive, sugars, oils, and tobaccos, also the stocks of the various express companies, but these offered less resistance to the late realizing pressure. Rails, especially secondhand issues, were backward throughout and Atlantic Gulf was the only member of the shipping group to display strength.

Trading in bonds was larger, but the expansion was mostly at the expense of values, rails showing especial heaviness. Liberty bonds were irregular, the 3½'s reacting perceptibly, but Internationals held steady.

Old U. S. 2's rose one-fourth on call and the 4's rose one-half.

Westford, March 31.—Funeral services for the late William H. S. Lansing, who died Monday, will be held tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon at 1 o'clock, at the home of his brother, Luzerne Lansing, near this village. Rev. William Roselle will officiate and burial will be in the village cemetery. Mr. Lansing was born in Decatur on Jan. 14, 1854, a son of James and Mary (Todd) Lansing. For several years he was employed in Troy as a clerk for his brother, who was then surrogate of Rensselaer county. Here he gained an excellent knowledge of law. In later years, he was assistant postmaster at Maryland, resigning that position a few months ago on account of failing health. While at Troy, he united with the Memorial Presbyterian church.

Mr. Lansing was a man of irreproachable character and was highly esteemed wherever known. He was a natural musician and possessed a fine tenor voice which delighted all who heard it. He was never married, and when not employed elsewhere made his home with the brother before mentioned.

Mr. Lansing is survived by three brothers, Melville, of Painted Post, Everett, who lives in the west, and Luzerne, of this place, and by one sister, Mrs. Sarah Snyder of Cherry Valley, also by several nephews and nieces.

EMINENT AMERICANS.

In the days of circulars and letters received at this office came one yesterday from the so-called Emergency Educational conference of Labor and Civic organizations, vigorously protesting the passage of the Lusk bill, which provide that teachers of the public schools must obtain an official "certificate of loyalty" subject to revocation at the judgment of the authorities.

Whether every provision of the Lusk bill should become law is a matter for consideration; but any protest made would receive more attention if the officers of the committee transmitting it had names a trifle more generally Americanized. The complete list of these officers, as copied from the accompanying letter head, is as follows: Edward C. Rybicki, Alexander Trachtenberg, Elizabeth Baer, I. B. Ball, Fred G. Hidenkapp, J. M. Budish, J. V. Crowne, Herman Defrem, Louis S. Friedland,
William Karlén, Henry R. L. Aville,
Edward A. Markoff, Spencer Miller,
Josephine Schain, A. L. Shipacoff, I.
Silverman and Mary K. Simkovich.
How would the Browns, Smiths, Jones, and Robinsons like to have the legal and educational policies of the government dictated by this group?

ASKING MERELY THEIR DUE.

The teachers of the state of New York are asking for a living wage.
There is no reason why they should not get it. Formerly, though wages were low, many young women were practically forced to accept this work from the lack of suitable forms of employment. The war, which increased living expenses, fortunately also opened the doors of many industries and business enterprises which had therefore been closed save to men. These occupations have taken to themselves many women formerly teachers and others who would have been had conditions remained normal, and now at the close of the war they prefer to remain in positions where wages are better and duties less nerve-racking.

As for the teachers who remain, there are many of them doing so at an actual sacrifice. They love the work, however, and are content to continue,
but they very properly think that in this as in other callings the laborer is worthy of her hire and moreover that hire should be sufficient not only to enable the teacher to live comfortably but to lay aside a reasonable sum in anticipation of illness or age.

Buy the J. R. Slade Residence.

George F. Bush, who recently sold his property on West End avenue, has purchased of Mrs. James R. Slade her desirable home at 12 Watkins avenue and will be given possession of the property as soon as the present tenants of the property can secure other quarters, which it is hoped and expected will be soon after May 1st. Mr.
Bush and family formerly resided in the same vicinity and will be heartily welcomed by the neighbors. Mrs. Elizabeth Slade is now in California and her plans for the future cannot be announced.

Chief Clerk Vaughn Resigns.

William J. Vaughn, chief clerk in the offices of Superintendent McNeil-lie, ended his duties there yesterday and leaves shortly for a farm he has purchased near Oneonta. Mr. Vaughn has been a faithful and efficient employee in the D. & H. offices for several years and his co-workers will regret his resignation. Mr. and Mrs.
Vaughn have made their home at 22
Central avenue.

Mr. McNeillie has not as yet appointed anyone to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Vaughn's resignation.

Another Evidence of Spring.

Two flocks of wild geese, about 40 birds in all, were observed passing over the city yesterday in two wedge-formations close together. They were undoubtedly on the way to the northern part of the state or Canada for the summer. As far as is known, this is the first flock which has been observed by residents of Oneonta, although many more will follow. Thus we are afforded another convincing evidence that the vernal season is here to stay.

Frank Keefe Now Hotel Manager.

The many friends in Oneonta and vicinity of Frank Keefe will be pleased to learn that he has recently become a part owner of the Empire hotel in Syracuse and has been appointed manager of that well-known hostelry. Mr.
Keefe was for about ten years a clerk at the St. Cloud in Syracuse. He formerly lived in Schenectady and has a large number of friends in this section, especially among the traveling public, who will congratulate him on his advancement.

Purchases Seward Dairy.

H. W. Sheldon purchased yesterday

Seward, Upper West street. Mr. Seward sells on account of the low price of milk and the high cost of feeding the cows.

THE INTERCHURCH MOVEMENT

OTSEGO COUNTY CONFERENCE
IN ONEONTA NEXT WEEK
FRIDAY.

Prominent Speakers Announced for Gathering at Lutheran Church—
County Quota for Big Interchurch
Fund Will Be Announced—Three Sessions: One for Young People in Afternoon.

Final arrangements have been completed for the conference of church people of practically all the Protestant denominations from all parts of Otsego county, scheduled to convene in the Lutheran church in Oneonta on Friday, April 2.

The list of speakers for the conference, under the auspices of the interchurch World movement—the cooperating agency of 29 denominations which are launching a united fund campaign of $326,777.572 to be subscribed between the dates of April 25 and May 2—was announced today by Dr. James E. Walker, New York state field secretary of the interchurch movement, from his state office in Syracuse. Dr. Walker has general supervision of arrangements for the conference that will be held in every county in the state during next week.

Among the speakers, who are thoroughly acquainted with the origin, development and plans of the interchurch movement, will be: Rev. C.
B. F. Pease of Amsterdam, leader of the "team" of speakers; Rev. Robert S. Wallace, of Fort Plain; Rev. H. W.
McCrone, of St. Johnsville; Rev. F. J.
Baum, of Cobleskill; and Mrs. T. J.
Pardee, of Fort Plain.

According to the tentative program of the conference, announced yesterday, the gathering will consist of three sessions, beginning at 10:30 in the morning. The results of the foreign and home surveys of the interchurch movement, which have been called by John D. Rockefeller Jr. "a model of ecclesiastical efficiency for all time," will be explained by the various speakers by means of maps, charts and stereopticon slides.

Adequate time will also be given during the all-day conference to the leaders of the financial campaign to explain the plans whereby this county's quota of the total amount to be sought throughout the United States is expected to be raised. This county's quota will be announced by the date of the conference, if not before. Frank L. Howe Jr., state director of the financial campaign, has been in consultation with the leaders of the various denominations throughout the state in order to make sure of an equitable distribution of the burden of the campaign throughout the entire state. Of the entire amount to be subscribed during the time set for the campaign, $175,418,749 is to be paid during this year, and the remainder within the next five years, for the world-wide Christianization program of the denominations co-operating in the movement.

One of the features of the conference will be one session, probably in the afternoon, devoted to the young people of the churches. Young church members from all the churches throughout the county have been invited to attend and learn of the plans for the young people to work during the approaching financial campaign.
The same speakers who address the main conference will speak at the session for young people.

Chipped plate glass name plates and numbers (everlasting) for front doors, made complete in Oneonta. A postal to David Caswell, 44 Valleyview street will receive immediate attention. advt 20c

Baptist Ship Is on Christianity Cruise

In and out among the hundreds of small islands in the Sea of Japan a little white ship threads its way on a never ending cruise of Christianity. It is the Church of the Fukun Maru, and it carries the gospel message to thousands who could not be reached in any other way.

The ship, like the itinerant preacher
and the circuit rider of the old days, makes port in lonely out of the way places. It dispenses a hospitality that might well be envied by American churches with better advantages. Natives flock to hear the messages delivered on its deck.

The Fukun Maru is the only floating Baptist church in the world, and it is regarded by members of that denomination as one of the most unique efforts of the Christian missionary movement. For years it was commanded by Captain Luke Beckel, who recently died, and now the Northern Baptists are endeavoring to find a captain-preacher who will take his place.

There are 33 churches of the Baptist faith in Japan, with a total membership of 3,451. Plans have already been outlined, however, for the building of 15 new churches immediately and later

Jerome Walsh Not Ill.

Jerome A. Walsh, who in yesterday's Star was reported to be ill of scarlet fever at Brown university, Providence, R. I., is spending the spring recess at his home in this city and was not a victim of the epidemic which closed the university. The report of his illness that reached Oneonta was due to the fact that his name was erroneously included in a list of stricken students given in a Providence newspaper.

Do you know that all wealth and luxury are the children of mother earth? This is the thing men fight for, live for, die for. They fight under many banners, live under many creeds, and die under many names. All for mother earth. All wealth comes from property. Ownership is what people are fighting for now, just to own a bit of this old earth. Think this over, come and let us tell you how you can own a 5-room house on paved street, improvements, large lot for $2,100.00. Campbell's Block. adv. 11

CEPERLEY-MORGAN CO. MOVE

Vacates Offices in Fairchild Block to Occupy Others in Own Building at 200 Main—Sketch of Historic Corner.

The Ceperley-Morgan Real Estate and Insurance company will move today from their offices at 246 Main street to a pleasant and nicely finished and arranged suite of two rooms at 200 Main, on the second floor, over the Carr Clothing company in the Ford and Stewart block, which property they purchased last fall of Sylvester Ford and the heirs of James Stewart. The Oneonta Novelty company, now located on the third floor of the block at 246 Main street, will move immediately into the vacated suite, which will be a much more convenient location.

Possession of the Ford and Stewart block will be given to the Ceperley-Morgan company today. This property has been in the possession of the Ford family since 1828 and the various buildings which have occupied the corner of Broad and Main streets will be remembered by all old residents of Oneonta.

The site was first occupied by a stone building built in 1840 by E. R. Ford, who came to Oneonta in 1822 from Greene county, and was utilized by him as a general merchandise store. In 1848, his son, D. W. Ford, became a partner in the business and was connected with the firm till 1854, at which time the latter went to Iowa, then the far west. In the same year, John Cope of Morris became a member of the firm, and in addition to the general merchandise, a junking business, the first established in Oneonta, was started. However, was not a bank of issue. In 1881 the building and other property as far as the store now occupied by John Laskaris was destroyed by a fire of the greatest magnitude that the town had up till that time experienced.

The present block, built in 1881-2 by E. R. Ford and James Stewart, has been leased to various firms up to the time of its purchase by the Ceperley-Morgan company.

MATTHEWS STORE OPENS TODAY.

Attractive New Store Invites All Star Readers to Inspect Showing of Goods.

The Matthews store in the Gardner & Falls building will hold a formal opening today and all Star readers are cordially invited to visit the store and inspect the stock and the appointments of the shop. Delays have resulted in the arrival of the glass and other materials required in remodeling the store itself and there has followed also a delay in the receipt of fixtures, some of which are still lacking.

However, it has been decided to have the formal opening today and it will be thrown open to the public at 12 o'clock today. It is the desire of Mr. Matthews that the public attend the opening and make inspection irrespective of whether desiring to purchase or not. There will be an orchestra in attendance and there will be flowers for the ladies who attend the opening.

The store is well worth an inspection. It is well equipped in every way with the most modern fixtures for the attractive display of the goods which are strictly up to date and of newest styles and fabrics. Mr. Matthews wishes it clearly understood that the public generally is invited to attend the opening this afternoon and evening.

Why Insurance is Needed.

When a man buys an automobile, he enters into an agreement with the public to do practically this:

"I guarantee to pay for any injuries that my automobile may cause, whether it be to a person, or to a man's property, real or personal, regardless of whether I am driving it, and regardless of whether I am in the car at the time of the accident."

"In this I agree to pay all hospital bills, doctor bills, nurse bills, cost of judicial proceedings, lawyers' fees, and any other cost or expense, as well as any judgment, regardless of amount, that grows out of an injury produced by my car."

"As a further guarantee to this contract, I pledge as security all my real estate, chattels, and property of any kind which I now own, and

"Still further guarantee to the performance of this contract all real estate, personal chattels, and property of any kind, which I may hereafter acquire, accumulate or possess."

ACTIVITY AT COUNTRY CLUB.

Harry Simpson, the New Golf Instructor, Expected to Arrive Today.

The fine weather attracted several of the enthusiastic golfers to the country club yesterday and they report the upper course in fine shape, with the ground hard and dry and the sport pleasing. The lower course, it is assumed, is still wet and soft, but a few more days will doubtless dry it out.

John J. Connor, who was in charge of the golfing here last year, has cancelled his agreement to return here and has gone to Oswego. In his place the club has engaged Harry Simpson of Hackensack, N. J., who comes highly recommended to the club as an excellent caretaker and a man well qualified for the position. He is expected to arrive in the city today to assume his duties.

At a meeting of the board of directors, held last evening, President Elmore announced his committees, with George B. Baird chairman of the important committee on greens and O. B. Rowe chairman of the house committee. Mrs. W. W. Capron will have direction of the social activities at the club during the summer.

At the meeting last evening James Keeton, ex. of the Quality Silk mill was elected a resident member, and Mrs. Jerome S. Seacord of Unadilla an associate member. A season of activity and much pleasure at the club is anticipated by all the members.

Final Yoke Fellows' Supper.

The final Yoke Fellows' supper of the winter was held last evening at the Y. M. C. A. hall and the supply of beams that Secretary Lange had on hand was appreciably reduced. The speaker of the evening was Rev. F. M. Caughey, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, who gave an interesting talk which appealed especially to young men, as it included some of the personal experiences of Mr. Caughey while he was serving overseas during the war as a chaplain.

It was decided to discontinue the supper until next fall, for with the arrival of warm weather most young men are heading the call of the outdoors.

Runaway Boys Return to Carbondale.

The two runaway boys who were caught Sunday night stealing a ride on a freight train entering the city and who had since been detained in the Municipal building, were started last night on the return trip to Carbondale, transportation having been provided by friends. Both boys said the "runaway" business was "not what it was cracked up to be" and they would be glad to get back to their homes in Carbondale.

ARNOLD SUES THREE HUNDRED

Charges "General Conspiracy"—Residents of Oneonta, Cooperstown and Binghamton on List.

More than three hundred prominent persons, residents of the state of New York and a large percentage of them of the city of Albany, were made defendants yesterday in an action begun by Lynn J. Arnold, the summons in which was filed with the Albany county clerk. No complaint accompanied the summons and the nature of the action is unknown other than that Mr. Arnold said it was for "general conspiracy." It is known, however, that the plaintiff has of late made charges of conspiracy in conversation and reference has been made by him from time to time to "the case." A bundle of the summonses has been given to Sheriff Coss of Albany, who in the course of the day made service upon several of the defendants.

While perhaps the larger number of defendants reside in Albany, that city has no monopoly of the list. Several are residents of Oneonta, several of Cooperstown, and perhaps a still larger number of Binghamton. The further outcome of the proceedings will be watched with interest.

The stock is complete with a large and complete showing of men's clothing and furnishings and the firm is sounding a call for all men to be ready for Easter on Sunday next and extends a cordial invitation to all to visit the store.

DRINK RESISTS ARREST.

Puts Up Stiff Fight When Arrested Yesterday on Main Street.

Herbert Ruttinger will be arraigned before Judge Huntington in city court this morning on a charge of public intoxication. The first in several weeks to have been apprehended in a condition which plainly showed that he had been partaking of the forbidden liquid. Ruttinger was arrested late yesterday afternoon at the corner of Main and West streets by Patrolman Jones and Schumann. He resisted the officers who tried to use his club to subdue him. While he was being taken to the police station, he was being held by the officers. He fought every step of the way and when near Board street he succeeded in breaking away from his captors and started running down Board street, with Jones hot on his heels. The policeman had Ruttinger in a sticky predicament as he got very far, however, and with the aid of pedestrians, took him to police headquarters, where he was put in the jail to "cool off." The fact that he resisted arrest will probably go against him when he is arraigned this morning.

Ruttinger and the policeman were the center of attraction of afternoon shoppers and there was considerable excitement, especially among street quacks, when the prisoner started on his ill-fated dash for liberty.

Dinner for Hon. L. B. Gleason.

Announcement is made that a dinner will be given at the Commodore hotel in New York city on the night of Thursday, April 15, in honor of Lafayette B. Gleason, secretary of the Republican State committee, who on that date will have reached his thirtieth birthday as a part of that organization. Mr. Gleason, who is a native of Delhi and still claims residence there, has many friends throughout his native county who will be interested in the above announcement. It is expected that from 1,200 to 1,500 men and women prominent in the councils of the party will be in attendance.

Another Recruit for Navy.

Wardell G. Millson of Cherry Valley has enlisted in the navy at the local recruiting station for two years as fireman, third class. He leaves for Syracuse today to try final examinations, after which he will be sent to Norfolk, Va. Information regarding the navy and the opportunities it offers to young men may be secured at the recruiting office in the post office building, James Robertson, recruiting officer.

Return Trip to Elmira.

The driver reported that he had had no difficulty making the trip, as the roads were in good condition. The truck left her at 7 p. m. for Elmira.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.

They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they clear clouded brain and perk up the spirits. 10c and 25c a box.

OVERLOOK THEIR BEST BETS

Discontent, Common to Ordinary Men, Spoils the Real Happiness Within Their Reach.

John Burroughs had a good estimate of value when he wrote:
"I have kept apart from the strife and fever of the world, and have sought the paths in the quiet fields and by still waters. I know that all this clamor and competition and turmoil of the world are the result of the fury with which we play the game. What is all this noisy civilization and all this rattling machinery of government for, but that man may have just the same and contented life that I am living, and on the same terms as I do? Men can find it in the next field, beyond the hill—a land of peace and plenty—if one has peace in his heart and a spirit of fair play in his blood.

There is contentment in the sunshine, in the rainfall, in the dew and in the hails, the fields and the flowers; there is contentment in the roll of the tides, in the rising moon, in the song of birds, in the mountain; there is the dignity of calm and peace in every attribute of material world, save in man alone; and when we come to man's case we find him disregarding his gifts from nature—an unhappy, protesting, discontented, aggressive, fighting animal unsatisfied with that which lies close to his hand, and contending always for something he has not.

Too many unhappy souls are giving too much of life for what they will ever receive for their exertions. George M. Farley writes in Seattle Post-Intelligencer. It would seem that after a man's day's work is done he might give himself over to peace and contentment, and to the enjoyment of what he has gained for himself. But instead he feels called upon to go out at eventide and join the Fourth Ward Protest club, and formulate his demands in 47 separate and distinct paragraphs, all of them of primal importance to his future happiness, or so he avers. He forgets what he has in his eagerness for what he has not.

Would Probably Admit That.

William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, dashed out of his New York office the other day and into a subway, only to be stopped by a guard, who said to him:

"Say, you look a lot like McAdoo."

"Well, maybe I do, but I'm glad I am not he," McAdoo replied. "I don't think much of that fellow, and I don't like folks to take me for him."

Whereupon the guard entered into a vigorous defense of McAdoo and McAdoo, on the other hand, assailed himself on all sides. Several trains went by while the guard and the former secretary argued. Finally McAdoo convinced his friend that maybe, after all, this fellow McAdoo wasn't much of a citizen, and started on, but the guard, as a parting shot, shouted:

"Well, you've got to admit that he must have been some guy to marry the president's daughter, anyhow."

A few days later the guard learned that he really had been talking to the former secretary.—Buffalo Sunday Express.

ROAD TO SPAN
TWO CONTINENTS

Ten-Thousand-Mile Line From Hudson Bay to Patagonia Planned.

PROGRESS IN THE PROJECT

Several Sections Already Have Been Completed—American Investors Are Invited to Aid—Dream of Fifty Years.

New York.—Realization of the dream of a railroad from Hudson bay to Patagonia has been brought nearer as a result of the recent Pan-American financial conference in Washington, according to Charles M. Pepper, who in 1903 was appointed by President Roosevelt to visit the several countries from Mexico southward and report on the project.

A journey by rail from the Arctic circle to the tip of South America, approximately ten thousand miles, could be made under good traffic conditions, it has been estimated, in sixteen to eighteen days. At present twenty-four days are required for the 5,871-mile sea voyage from New York to Buenos Aires.

This dream of a transhemisphere trunk line, running almost the entire length of the two American continents, was born in the brain of Hinton Rowan Helper, a southern writer and former United States consul in South America, more than fifty years ago. The late United States Senator Henry Gassaway Davis of West Virginia, a practical railroad builder, saw its feasibility, and, with Andrew Carnegie and other wealthy Americans, gave the idea a fresh impetus. James G. Blaine also once advocated it.

Takes Definite Form.

The project received first definite form at the international American conference held in Mexico City in 1902, which appointed a permanent Pan-American railway committee composed of prominent citizens of the United States and diplomatic officials of Latin-American countries resident in Washington. Former Senator Davis and Mr. Carnegie were members of it.

"In the eighteen years since the plan was endorsed by the Mexican conference," explained Mr. Pepper in his report, "considerable progress has been made in joining up various railway sections. Chile has completed the longitudinal line from Puerto Montt in the south to the railways in the north, which form junctions with the main trunk of the Pan-American system.

"The Transandean line, from Valparaiso to Buenos Aires, also has been completed, while the lines joining the Brazilian systems radiating from Rio de Janeiro have been finished so that they form junctions with Uruguayan and Argentine lines.

"The Argentine line was finished to the southern border of Bolivia at La Quiaca several years ago, while Bolivia has closed up most of the links in her Pan-American trunk line. There are now less than 125 miles in Bolivia to be completed, some of which is also graded in order to provide through railway connection from Buenos Aires to La Paz and to the Pacific. It would cost approximately $5,000,000 to complete it.

Bolivia to Get Loan.

"The group committee on Bolivia at the recent Pan-American financial conference recommended that a loan be granted Bolivia for the purpose of completing this link. It was explained that the gauge was the same as that of the Argentine lines and an arrangement by which Bolivia could use Argentine rolling stock was suggested."

The war, it is said, has made it virtually impossible for European countries to continue their financing of South America, and this is why delegations from Colombia, Peru, Chile, Brazil, Ecuador, Uruguay, Paraguay and other South American lands have visited the United States in recent years to awaken American investors to what they call "a big investment opportunity." The proposed trunk line would run from the United States through Mexico, Central America, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, almost the entire length of Chile and from La Quiaca, Bolivia, to Buenos Aires. From this main line would be connecting roads, some already completed, extending like "fingers" in many directions toward the Atlantic ocean.

WOMEN NOW SUPERIOR SEX

"Take Off Hat to Them," Says London Judge, Imposing Fine.

London.—After fining a man at the Thames police court for demanding that women pedestrians should step aside and allow him to pass on the sidewalk, the magistrate said:

"Ladies now sit in the seat that I sit in, or shortly will, to administer justice. You must give them their due and pay them proper respect. We are no longer the superior sex. Take off your hat to them politely, for they are your superiors."

Cat Rules the Roost.

Gold Hill, Ore., has a cat that has the distinction of "ruling the roost." Several months ago a half-starved and wild kitten made its appearance in a pen of chickens at a home in the suburbs and fed with inmates of the enclosure. It has become quite docile since but never comes within reach of a person, still feeds with the chickens, which have a fond attachment for it, sleeps in the nests at night and during the daytime occupies the nest while the hens are laying.

Recently the cat repelled a skunk that attempted to invade the henhouse and caused it to be freed by the house dog, which held it at bay till morning, when it was killed. The fur netted the boy of the family $5.

A Jar of Vicks is Protection Against Colds

More than a score of years ago, a druggist in a little North Carolina town was searching for a better way to treat colds. He knew that epinephrine and internal medicines did not go direct to the lungs and air passages, and often did derange the digestion.

At last he found a process by which he could combine standard, time-tested remedies in salve form, so that when the salve was applied over the throat and chest the ingredients would be vaporized by the body heat.

These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carried the medication direct to the lungs and air passages. At the same time the salve was absorbed through and stimulated the skin, aiding the vapors inhaled to relieve the congestion.

This preparation was named Vicks VapoRub, and year by year its use has steadily grown until now more than 17 million jars are used annually.

Vicks is a Real "Little Bodyguard" to Old and Young

For mothers with small children Vicks is a boon indeed. No dosing—just apply well over the throat and chest at the first sign of "sniffles," and cover with a hot flannel cloth. Leave the covering loose around the neck so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. An application at bed time usually prevents a night attack of spasmodic croup.

For deep chest colds, bronchitis, sore throat, hoarseness—hot wet towels should first be applied over the throat and chest to open the pores of the skin—then rub on Vicks.

For head colds, asthma, catarrh, whooping cough—a little Vicks can be melted in a spoon and the vapors inhaled.

Formula of Vicks

Vicks contains Menthol from Japan—Camphor from the Island of Formosa—Oil of Eucalyptus from Australia—Oil of Juniper Tar from the Mediterranean Coast—Turpentine from the long leaf pine trees of the South—Petrolatum from the oil fields of Pennsylvania, and other valuable ingredients.

If Filled on Prescription a 30-cent Jar of Vicks Would Cost from 60 to 75 Cents

These ingredients are bought in enormous quantities, carefully tested by our chemists and mixed by automatic machinery in our huge laboratory, employing over 200 people.

Recently an officer of this Company had a prescription for a 30-cent jar of Vicks filled in various cities—below are given the prices charged, which of course do not include the physician's fee:

Lynchburg, Va. .60 Chicago, Ill. .70
Baltimore, Md. .65 San Francisco, Cal. .75
New York, N.Y. .65 St. Louis, Mo. .70
